Belle Glade city raises sought

By JIM JONES

BELLE GLADE—City Manager Rolfe Wagner presented a plan to Belle Glade City Commissioners Monday, June 29, at a workshop session, which could raise pay for city employees by as much as 20 percent during the next fiscal year.

The proposed increases would push the city's outlay for employee salaries and benefits to about $2.9 million.

Wagner presented a study of Belle Glade employee salaries, which showed them seriously lagging pay schedules in 30 other cities.

A comparison of 38 positions—ranging from laborer to finance director—was presented, indicating that only one of the positions met the average for the 30 city survey. Most of the positions are well below the survey average.

Wagner proposed adjusting salaries upward to compensate for the low local wage, which has affected the morale of city employees and resulted in some employees taking their skills elsewhere.

"The overall effect, although each individual position was adjusted independently, was an adjustment to the existing salary grand total of 9 percent," Wagner said.

On top of the adjustment, Wagner is proposing a 7.5 percent increase for inflation. Wagner called the 7.5 percent figure a conservative one.

Some employees would also be eligible for a 2.5 percent merit increase, based on exceptional performance, in April, making the total possible increase 20 percent.

"The resulting total effect of the three-part plan amounts to adding 20 percent to this year's salary levels, presuming we keep the same number of people - which we will not," Wagner said.

He called the 20 percent figure a worst-case estimate.

Wagner said his personal philosophy calls for fewer, more productive, and better paid employees. He favors reducing the city work force through attrition, rather than firings.

Tuesday, Wagner said the total number of city employees had been reduced from 241 when he became city manager in March to 226.

"It's not a token measure," he said of efforts to improve employee pay. "It is an honest, good faith, logical effort to solve the problem."

Wagner asked the commission for a consensus on his proposal for correcting employee pay levels.

"In the months I have served you, I have resisted the many requests for adjustment of individual's compensation and have granted no step increases except those specified for the completion of probation or for promotions," Wagner said. "My reason for that resistance was that the entire compensation plan was under intensive review and I was determined to approach the problem in a planned, logical and reasonable manner instead of piecemeal."

Under the plan proposed by the city manager, the current starting pay for patrolman would increase from $11,855 to $12,884, and the newest current patrolman would increase from $11,855 to $13,041. Pay for oldest current patrolman would increase from $14,394 to $15,891.

Other positions would also increase, including starting pay for laborers from $7,501 to $7,613 and for accounting clerks from $7,301 to $8,403.

"It would be appreciated if the Commission would express a consensus tonight in order that the department heads may have guidance in completing their budget requests," he said.

Commissioner Charles D. Goodlett said that while he understands the need to improve employee salaries, he thought Wagner should first develop anticipated revenue figures for the new fiscal year and bring a budget which fits within the revenue back before the commission.

"I don't want us to end up in September with a budget up here and everyone wanting to know where we are going to get the money," Goodlett said.

"We know we can't afford a budget larger than the revenue we have coming in," Goodlett said.

Goodlett said he couldn't vote for something when he didn't know how much it would cost the city.

Wagner responded that while his process is unorthodox and commissioners are seeing the budget prepared in bits and pieces, he is applying their budget guidance.

Wagner said that the final product would be a balanced budget, but that because of his newness to the community, he would have to heavily involve the commission in the budget process.

"You'll be asked to make some tough decisions," he said. "I'm going to ask you to give me some guidance."

Goodlett said that he thought the city manager and the department heads are better qualified to make budget decisions than the commissioners.

"I insist that you folks do your part by telling us what you want," Wagner said.

Mayor Thomas Altman said that the city manager was merely seeking approval for his plan to upgrade salaries. "We're making a commitment to what we want to do," he said.

Wagner said that while commissioners would be involved to an almost Mini-steel mill coming?

By JIM JONES

There could be a mini-steel mill in Belle Glade's future, according to Remar Harvin, director of community development for the City of Belle Glade.

Harvin made the disclosure at a workshop meeting of the Belle Glade City Commission Monday, June 29.

Harvin said that Capital Mortgage Company of Miami is interested in locating a mill here on five acres of land. The mill would create 57 jobs and contribute $721,298 in salaries to the city's economy annually.

Environmental impact on the community would be minimal as the mini-mill would re-roll scrap steel into larger size bars for wholesale marketing. The mill would not be involved in a smelting operation, which produces far more pollution.

Mayor Thomas Altman called the proposed mini-mill a "terrific prospect," noting that industrial development bonds would not be needed.

West Tech offers runway help

A spokesman for West Area Vocational Training Center offered to provide the services of West Tech students and equipment to the Belle Glade Airport Committee Thursday, June 25, for the construction of a paved and lighted east-west runway.

Kenneth Bowermeister said the project offers his students the opportunity to put their skills to work on a meaningful project.

Bowermeister's offer helped to lift a bit of gloom from the committee, which had been faced with a $30,000 funding problem.

Proposed is a 50 by 3,700 foot runway, equipped with low intensity lights and a lighted windsock.

Airport committee members are attempting to complete as much of the project as possible using private—rather than taxpayer—funds.

At the heart of the project is a $100,000 state grant. Added to that is a local contribution of $166,850 for labor, equipment, and cash donations.

Committee members determined that the cost of the project will be about $193,527, but only $164,000 has been pledged, a projected deficit of $29,500.

Wagner said that he wanted the committee to find the additional money and that he did not want it coming from the city treasury.

Wagner said the airport would be officially closed July 20 when the first step in the construction of the runway—excavation of a key ditch—is started. The key ditch will run the length of the runway and be three feet wide, and nine feet deep.

Pahokee celebrates Freedom Festival

PAHOKEE — All is ready and set to go this weekend for the Third Annual Freedom Festival, sponsored by the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce in celebration of the Fourth of July.

The Chamber board of directors met Monday at noon to finalize plans for the festival to be held at the Pahokee State Recreation area located on the eastern shore of Lake Okeechobee.

Vice-President Diane Hall said the festival will include a day of activities for adults and children and will be highlighted with the gala fireworks display put on by the Chamber.

In commemoration of the festival, Ms. Hall said T-shirts are on sale in the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce office for adults for $8 and $8.50 and children sizes for $4. She said the T-shirts will also be on sale at the docks on the day of the festival.

The Chamber also has Freedom Festival car tags, American and Confederate flags and stick pins for sale.

The Festival will open with a Children's Fishing Contest at 7 a.m. The contest will be broken into three age groups and a $2 registration fee will be required for all youngsters participating in the contest.

Participants may pre-register or register the day of the contest. Bait is included in the registration fee.

Martin Aweil, one of two harbor masters at the Pahokee Harbor, said each fisherman must supply his

TWO WEEKS OF SWIMMING instruction behind them, these youngsters are better prepared to meet the dangers presented by canals in the Belle Glade area. Their instructor, Cindy McKee (right) has been teaching local youngsters to swim for the past eight years.

Youngsters learn how to swim

As a native of Belle Glade, Cindy McKee knows just how dangerous the canals and drainage districts which criss-cross town can be to youngsters.

For the past eight years, she has devoted a portion of her summers to teaching local youngsters to swim.

If they should ever fall into a canal— or a home swimming pool—they would have at least a fighting chance of surviving.

Friday, June 26, Cindy McKee and her latest group of 25 young students celebrated the completion of a two week swimming course at the home of Donna Shelton on N. E. Ave. H.

The graduates earned their minnow status by being able to swim fully clothed.

Over the years, Ms. McKee has taught over 100 youngsters to swim, but her class this year was the largest. Students ranged in age from two years to 12, and she even taught 27 year old Lulu Morris to swim for good measure.

The youngsters came from all over Belle Glade, attracted to the course mostly by word of mouth.

During the year, Cindy is a fourth grade teacher at Belle Glade Elementary School, so teaching youngsters to swim is almost second nature to her.

Her mother in law, Evelyn McKee, a former synchronized swimmer, started the informal program, and Cindy took over eight years ago.

Only six of this year's batch of student swimmers knew how to swim when they started the class. Cindy had to start with the basics, including breathing control and working up to swimming fully clothed.

It is training to relieve parental anxiety, particularly for those who have found a non-swimming youngster sinking into the deep end of the home pool.

Cindy McKee's swimming lessons have come to an end for another year. Those who completed the course include Jeff Brooker, Adriana Sanchez, Sheryl and Tracy Moss, Carmen and Papo Camacho, Brad and Rebecca Buckner, Mandy McFullen, Alisse Morris, Robert Aubrey, Mark Collier.

Nicholl Blackwell, Mark and Christina Burch, Cindy Dale, Ingrid Haze, Erick Pitts, Ericka Mack, Blossom Young, Billy Brewer, Stephen Mikell, Christie Lee, Michael Adams, Clayton Salvador, and Nick Ballard.

"Down at the Courthouse" opens

A traveling exhibit entitled "Down at the Courthouse" opened July 1st at the Lawrence E. Will Museum in Belle Glade as part of an outreach program initiated by Secretary of State George Armstrong that places 20 museum exhibits on tour statewide.

Through photographs, illustrations and a sampling of stories, facts and anecdotes, the exhibit looks at life in each of Florida's 67 counties.

"The courthouse collection is unique in its personalized treatment of life in Florida," Firestone said. "As a family album—a diary for the state—it reflects each community's view of its past, its local pride, its ability to laugh at itself, and its collective hopes for the future."

"Down at the courthouse" is one of 20 traveling exhibits placed on statewide tour by the Museum of Florida History at Firestone's request. According to Firestone, the traveling exhibit program is designed to offer Floridians greater access to the state's cultural and historic resources.

The exhibit—produced by the Museum of Florida History, under the auspices of the Department of State—will be on display at the Lawrence E. Will Museum through July 31.

The Florida department of State, the Palm Beach County Legislative Delegation and the Lawrence E. Will Museum are co-sponsoring the exhibit's appearance locally.

Commission considers vote change

BELLE GLADE—Belle Glade City Commissioners discussed revising their voting requirements for approval of ordinances and resolutions at a workshop meeting Monday, June 22.

Commissioners also discussed a draft of an ordinance which would liberalize the requirement for reading proposed ordinances in full at the first and final readings.

City Attorney John Baker has advised commissioners that since the procedure for adopting ordinances is contained in the city charter, the charter would have to be changed.

At Monday's workshop, commissioners instructed Baker to change his proposed ordinance to allow the passage of a proposed ordinance by a majority vote, rather than requiring three affirmative votes.

Mayor Altman said he preferred requiring a majority vote to preclude a single commissioner from having veto powers over other commissioners when only three commissioners are present at a meeting.

A majority vote would be required when the ordinance is introduced and when it is finally passed.

Baker was also instructed to prepare the ordinance to require the presiding officer or one of the other commissioners present to sign ordinances when finally passed.

As originally written, the ordinance would have required at least three commissioners to sign the ordinance.

Under the new ordinance, the clerk would read the ordinance by title or in full at either the first or final reading.

No final action on the proposed ordinance was taken at Monday's workshop.

Men charged with burglary

Two Belle Glade men, Carl McLemore, 27, and Johnnie B. Tillman, 20, were charged with burglary of a residence and forced entry Monday, June 29.

According to Belle Glade Patrolman Michael Johnson, a neighbor called police after spotting suspicious persons at the home of Rita Fernandez of 433 E. Ave. A.

Police arrived on the scene and gave chase, apprehending Tillman and McLemore near Everglades Federal Savings and Loan. Bond for the two men was set at $3,000.

Also taking part in the case was Det. J. R. Eberle.

Thieves raid trucks

Thieves brazenly plundered three tractor-trailers parked at Deem City Truck Stop early Tuesday morning, June 30, and then fled south on U.S. 27, Deputy Rick Rasmussen said Tuesday.

Larry Corwin of Sarasota heard the roar of his trailer shift as if someone were walking around inside. Upon checking the trailer, he found six 80 pound boxes of beef valued at $900 missing.

Arriving on the scene, Radford found that someone had placed 20 cases of margarine, valued at $510, on the ground.

Unable to find the owner of the margarine, he loaded it into his cruiser and returned to Belle Glade and placed the margarine in the jail for safekeeping.

Later, Dwight Timma, 37, of Fort Payne, Ala., called to claim the margarine.

A third truck driver, Dennis Beck of Malrose, Fla., later reported that several cases of TV dinners had been stolen from his truck.

Radford said the thieves apparently sneak up behind parked trailers with bolt cutters and break in while the drivers are sleeping.

Commissioner Bill Bailey, Ms. Sue Barton and Rep. Jim Watts cuts dedication ribbon at new HRS Service Center.

A dream comes true for HRS

BELLE GLADE -- A dream came true for Ms. Sue Barton, coordinator of the Florida Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services Glades branch and her staff when a new 17,000 square-foot service building was dedicated Friday, June 26.

The new office, the first in the state to be built and owned by HRS as a unified service center is located just behind the Palm Beach County Glades Office Building and next to the county jail that is presently under construction.

At the dedication ceremony attended by Richard E. Grimm, Assistant Secretary for Operations for HRS, Lawrence M. Dougher, District Administrator, District IX of HRS, County Commissioner Bill Bailey and many HRS personnel and community supporters, Ms. Barton said, "This has been the greatest day of my life."

Commissioner Bailey said he could remember when he was a city commissioner for the City of Belle Glade, HRS officials came to the City and asked for a temporary 90-day permit for a mobile home to be set up by HRS behind the county health department.

"HRS kept asking for 90-day trailer permits," Bailey added.

Dr. Grimm said he also recalled that first request for a permit and the extension granted 90 days later and the request for a permit for HRS which lasted for the next 10 years.

Dr. Grimm said the new building which cost approximately $950,000 to build said the building is the culmination of 20 years of hard work by social workers in the Glades.

Rep. Jim Watts was also on hand for the dedication and State Senate Tom Lewis sent a telegram expressing his sentiments on the dedication of the service complex.

Commissioner Bailey said Lewis sent word that funds have been approved for the paving of SR 80, which is being relocated and four-laned near Hooker Highway and US 441.

The staff of HRS presented Ms. Barton with a plate containing signatures of the staff and the date of the dedication ceremony. Mrs. D. Darling presented the plate to Ms. Barton. The staff gave Ms. Barton a standing ovation during the presentation.

Ms. Barton said "If it hadn't been for them, (the staff) I would not have worked so hard."

Following the presentation, Commissioner Bailey, Ms. Barton and Rep. Watts cut the ribbon draped across the front doors.

The office complex will offer aid to dependent children, food stamps, and economics services, services and aging adult refugee assistance, social vocational rehabilitative services.

Tid bits

As the Fourth of July makes it way this way once again, the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce has put together what is hoped to be one of the best Fourth of July celebrations in the state and in the nation.

The Chamber is expecting a large crowd and has made plans to have something on hand for everyone. The day will get underway with something for the small folks in the way of a children's fishing tournament and will end with an adult dance at the Pahokee Elks Club at 1 p.m. You can't say the Chamber has left a stone unturned when it comes to the activities it has on its agenda.

There also will be a variety of music for everyone from gospel to patriotic music...music for the young and the not so young...

So if you're in town this weekend, go on over and take part in the Third Annual Freedom Festival Celebration in Pahokee at the Pahokee Harbor.

CLASS REUNION

The members of the former Everglades Vocational High School is planning a gala reunion. EVH established in 1941 at the Okeechobee Housing Center was the first school for blacks in the Glades. Students came as far away as Clewiston and Moore Haven to attend.

Today many of those former EVH students and staff members are still members of the Glades community and are outstanding members of the community. Take for example Willie "Bill" Pyfrom, director of the Glades Central Community School Band; Pyfrom's and the GCHC band's accomplishments can speak for themselves. Pyfrom and his wife, are graduates of EVH.

Take Dan Bythwood, an active member of the youth softball league and any organized afterschool recreational activities for the youth in the Glades community was a former basketball coach for EVH. Hoover Tolbert, Earlene Jordan and Doris Harrell are educators in the Palm Beach County School System, all are products of EVH.

This weekend why not take advantage of the many activities the reunion committee has planned for the reunion and reacquaint yourself with many of the former EVH students and staff.

Freedom Festival

It falls on the Independence Day Weekend and is called Freedom Festival. It's Pahokee's way of celebrating the good life in America.

Freedom Festival 1981 begins this weekend (see list of events elsewhere in this issue) and is the third annual renewal of a very good idea.

Freedom Festival is an opportunity for all residents of the community to get together and for citizens from neighboring communities to visit and enjoy some neighborly fellowship.

Freedom Festival is also a homecoming event; a call to Pahokee's native sons who have struck off to make their mark elsewhere in the world, to return-- at least temporarily-- to their roots.

Most of all, Freedom Festival is acknowledgement of that day in 1776 when a group of upstart colonials declared that they weren't going to be ruled by any power on the other side of the Atlantic Ocean.

America has come far since that day 205 years ago. This country's freedom has constantly been imperiled and tested during that time. But somehow, it has always survived, prospered and gotten better.

Come on out to Pahokee's Freedom Festival and look around. You will see some of the folks who helped make this country great: people just like you.

20 YEARS AGO
JUNE 23, 1961

Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner said that when the current licenses were to expire in July he would tighten bond requirements for dealers in agricultural products to protect the Florida farmer.

Conner said he planned to raise the maximum amount of bonds from $10,000 to $20,000, and scrutinize very closely the amount of business done by a dealer before letting him get by with a small bond which might be inadequate.

The Observer reported that the family farm was still characteristic of American agriculture, but was becoming bigger, more mechanized and much more expensive.

A registered Holstein cow owned by Jeffco Dairies, Inc., Okeechobee shattered an all-time Florida butter record in the official Herd Testing programs of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Approximately 250 Vocational Agriculture Students were expected to attend Florida's 27th annual Forestry Training Camp for Future Farmers of America.

The County Commission authorized County Engineer J.M. Boyd to advertise for bids on the buildings at the then new county barn site on Congress Road during its board meeting.

At a meeting of the Pahokee Eastern Star chapter at the Masonic Hall, meetings were suspended for the months of July, August and September. It was announced that Robert Morris Day would be served with a picnic on August 30th with Mrs. Frank Wilson in charge.

Monday was family night at the Canal Point Lions club which met at the Community Park Building where a turkey dinner was served to the members and their families.

R.E.(Bobby) Johnson, deputy district governor of district 35-a, was the speaker for the occasion and installed the new officers.
According to an announcement made by H.M. McIntosh, President of the Bank of Pahokee, John A. Elton was elected a Vice President of the Bank of Pahokee.

Citizens of South Bay were to vote on a special election on Monday, July 7, on the incorporation of that town, according to an announcement by Attorney Archie Harris of Pahokee, who had been retained by a group of property owners to draw up incorporation papers.

House Bill 1441, passed by Attorney Herbert B. Beck in the last session of the legislature, provided for the incorporation of the town with the consent of the majority of the voters.

Work on Sand Cut Migratory camp was to start soon. The contract was awarded to Coston and Sons of Alabama and Mr. Coston rented the C.S. Moore house in Pahokee to live during the course of construction of the camp. He planned to be in Pahokee for one year.

Bryan Holloway took the contract to put all telephone lines in conduits under the streets and installing underground cables from the Hillsborough Bridge to the south limits of Belle Glade.

The driving of pilings for the foundation of Pahokee's new municipal building was started by Don Hiler and Sons, local contractor.

J.C. Ellington of Newman, Ga., became owner of the Western Auto associate stores in Pahokee and Belle Glade when he completed a deal with J.F. McClure, Jr. who had owned the stores since their opening.

50 YEARS AGO
THE EVERGLADES NEWS
JULY 3, 1931

A level of 14.9 feet was recorded on Monday June 29, for Lake Okeechobee at Canal Point and some persons of short residence or short memory got excited and expressed fear that the lake was going to dry up.

All of the blacksmith and machine shops in the upper Glades were working full time putting tractors and other farm equipment in shape for use in making ready for the fall crops.

Building operations at Bean City seemed to be in a flourishing condition. Arthur Well had just completed a good sized garage and machine shed and two new dwelling were in the process of construction on the north side of the highway.

A visit to Shawano, seat of Brown Company farming operations on the Hillsboro canal was made by the editor of the Arcadia weekly newspaper, who wrote that peanut hay had been ground at the Brown Company mill at Shawano, but that they were now experimenting with soy bean hay.

The editor of the Arcadia paper found that the management at Shawano did not object to, but did not invite visits and publicity. The lay-out at Shawano won the high praise of the Arcadia newspaper man.

A landmark in Pahokee was removed when A. Kaltenbrunner had a tree and a building removed from his lot on the main street to make room for a filling station and a new street. The building was the one in which for many years Mr. Kaltenbrunner conducted a seed and feed business with gasoline and hampers as side lines.

Lost brothers

As I was walking down the hall, I caught a glimpse of a man hunched over the table, leafing through papers.

Though I hadn't seen him in 14 years, I immediately recognized him.

"David Dublin, welcome to the unit," I said, walking into the room and extending my hand.

David Dublin stood, looked at me with just a trace of hesitation and shook my hand.

"You don't recognize me, do you?" I asked. "I'm Jim Jones, I was in Officer Candidate School with you 14 years ago."

I could see that he still didn't recognize me.

"Come on now, I'm the one who is supposed to have the bad memory," I said. "Okay, maybe this will help you: back then I didn't wear glasses, had more hair, and was about 25 pounds lighter."

"Okay, it's starting to come back to me now," he said, as the cob webs began clearing from his memory. We talked about all of the things that had happened to us in the 14 years since we left the six torturous months that were OCS.

Finding someone from your OCS class is like discovering a long lost brother.

After OCS, both Dublin and I had gone on to Germany and then Vietnam, though with different units.

Dublin left the service, lived in Germany for a while, and played semi-pro soccer as a goalie, before moving back to Delaware.

Two years ago, he moved to Florida and began importing surgical equipment made in Germany.

But it wasn't until Sunday that we met again, and this time it was in the Army Reserve.

"It's really a small world," I said. "Do you remember Bill Lublin?"

"Yeah, he was the guy with the huge head and the hawk nose," Dublin said.

"Right, that's him," I said. "About six years ago he called me at home when I was attending the University of South Florida in Tampa. Turned out the Army had sent him to the University of Tampa to get his masters. He was just across town. He discovered I was in town through his mother. We had been exchanging Christmas cards for years."

Then we returned to the present and realized we both had to get back to work.

Yep, it's the same old Dublin, I thought. He's a little more subdued now, not prone to cracking corny jokes anymore. He's got a bit of gray in his hair and he is well on his way to growing some respectable wrinkles.

We shook hands and promised to talk more later. There were so many things that we hadn't talked about. But it's hard to condense 14 years into a few minutes. I wasn't even able to ask if he has children.

Plus, I want to find out how an American ever came to play soccer in a German league and was good enough to get paid for it.

Speaking of soccer, I had the opportunity to see a Tampa Bay Rowdies game this weekend for the first time.

Watch out baseball! I think this sport has a chance of catching on over here. There was lots of action and 20,000 loyal Rowdies fans were screaming at the coach and the officials just as they would in any other American sport.

The Rowdies won the game 3-2 (which is a perfectly respectable baseball score), ran up and down the field constantly (as in basketball), and kicked goals like in football.

There is more contact than might be expected and the game is easy to follow. I believe soccer is more exciting viewing in person than on television, whereas the perfect medium for watching American pro football might be the tube.

Watch out you striking baseball players. The American public might not put up with you shenanigans forever.

or her own pole and tackle. Prizes will be given for the largest fish caught, and the total weight for all fish caught.

Averill said only edible fish are eligible for the contest. There will be a boy and girl category for each age group. The age groups are from 4 to 6; 7 to 12 and 13 to 16.

Youngsters in the 4 to 6 year age group will only be required to fish from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m., and they must be accompanied by an adult. Children ages 7 to 16 will fish from 7 to noon.

The Festival program will open with a gospel program by several local groups at 11 a.m., and all booths will open at that time also.

Ray Hatton, II, chairman of the activities, said a sky diving exhibition will be held at noon, followed by music by the Southern Knight Band of Belle Glade at 1 p.m.

Hatton said various events will continue throughout the day with the program concluding with a fireworks display and Shirley Wagon singing "God Bless America."

An adult dance will be held at the Pahokee Elks Club beginning at 10 p.m. to cap Freedom Festival activities.

Tickets are $7.50 per person and can be purchased from any member of the Elks Club. The Lonnie Jolson Band will be providing the musical entertainment.

Auxiliary elects officers

Legion Auxiliary Unit 12 recently elected new officers. They include Pres. Fran Carlton, First Vice Pres. Michele Gurto, Second Vice Pres. Anna Ostrosky, Secretary Peggy Gurto, Treasurer Winnie Wellman, Chaplain Jane Oliver, Historian Ruth Merchant, Sergeant at Arms Debbie Carlton, and Assistant Sergeant at Arms Wilma Rowland.

Communications Chairman Wilma Rowland announced that a planning meeting will be held July 7 to formulate the schedule of activities for the coming year.

Programs that the Legion Auxiliary has benefited in the past include the Exceptional Child Education Center at Gove Elementary School; the childrens ward at Glades Memorial Hospital; the Sheriff's Boy Ranch; and the Nell Smith Residence for Girls. The Junior members of the unit annually assist the senior members with these projects.

Mrs. Rowland announced that the Unit would be holding its installation on July 10 at 7 p.m. and that the Juniors would hold their elections during July.

"tedious" degree this year, the job will get progressively easier and city fathers will come to have a more secure feeling about the city's financial affairs.

"I think this is great. You've done a lot of work," Commissioner Randy Davidson told Wagner.

Commissioners informally agreed that city employee salaries need to be adjusted and that Wagner's logic for upgrading them is sound.

A second budget workshop was set for July 20 at which time department requests are expected to be presented along with anticipated revenues.

PROSPECTS BRIGHTENED last week for the construction of a paved runway at Belle Glade Airport, following announcement that West Tech would make its assets available to the project. A West Tech spokesman said the project has educational value for the school's students and will help to improve a community asset.

Following Wagner's presentation, Bowermeister made his offer of equipment and students to the committee at no cost.

"You name it, we've got it," Bowermeister said of equipment at West Tech.

Bowermeister said that West Tech students could contribute six productive hours a day and that some students might be interested in working longer than that for pay.

"This tech center belongs to the community. We want to participate," said Bowermeister.

Bowermeister said West Tech officials are interested in the educational value of the project for their students.

"You can't learn it all out of a textbook or in a classroom," Bowermeister said. "You can't train a student if you don't have a project. We're willing to participate anyway that we can."

Robert Edens, one of the committee members, said he is "tickled" to work with students and it gives him an opportunity to look for new equipment operators for his construction business.

Ottawa awards scholarship

Thomas Leon Swager, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Swager of Belle Glade, has been awarded a scholarship by Ottawa University.

Swager is a 1981 graduate of Glades Day School and intends to study business and management. He plans to participate in football, basketball and newspaperwork while attending the university. He is the recipient of a football scholarship.

Harvin said that an urban development grant application to the Department of Housing and Urban Development would be necessary to bring the new mill here.

Harvin advised commissioners that he would be bringing the pre-application before them at their July 13 regular meeting.

The grant pre-application must be submitted prior to Aug. 1, Harvin said.

If the grant is approved, the federal government would provide approximately one-fifth of Capital Mortgage Company's cost of locating a mill in Belle Glade. Total cost is estimated at $5 million. Grant money would be used for land acquisition and purchase of some major equipment. Capital would be required to pay for the four-fifths cost of the mill not covered by the grant.

Harvin said that the city faces a tight schedule for submission of the pre-application and that two public hearings will have to be held.

Harvin said he plans to prepare the pre-application in-house and would not have to pay consultant's fees.

Mayor Altman said that the steel mini-mill proposal would be brought before the commission at its July 13 meeting, along with a proposal for an alcohol plant.

Developers of the proposed alcohol plant are seeking an industrial revenue bond issue to help with the funding of the project.

Too fast for conditions

TRAFFIC WAS SLOWED at the intersection of Airport Road and North Main Street in Belle Glade after an FEC truck hauling a load of paper turned over. Driver Willie Oscar Williams of Belle Glade was charged with speed too fast for conditions. The truck overturned when its rear wheels hit the median strip and caused the load to shift. Damage to the tractor was estimated at $1,000. Damage to the trailer was estimated at $600. Trooper J. L. Matheny investigated the accident.

Groff is appointed director

BELLE GLADE -- Dr. Franklin H. Groff of Lake Park has been appointed Director of Testing of the Western Palm Beach Mental Health Clinic, according to Jean Cogar, executive director of the Belle Glade based organization. Dr. Groff, formerly associated with Larson and Associates Personnel of Lake Park, will supervise all types of tests deemed necessary by the staff psychiatrists, psychologists and therapists at the clinic.

He received his Ph.D. from the University of Illinois and has been involved in psychological testing throughout his professional career. He is a member of the American Psychological Association and the Florida Psychological Association-Palm Beach Regional Chapter.

Dr. Groff feels that testing must be done for a valid reason whether that reason is academic, emotional or physiological. He said the tests will be used to confirm diagnosis or to help sort out the client's problems.

In addition to testing, Dr. Groff will carry a case of special clients and he will also be starting a therapy group for young adults ages 18 to 25, and a growth and support group for the 40 to 50 year olds.

Dr. Groff is married and has three children and is a native of LaPlace, Ill.

Scholarships available

Black students who had a high academic standing in high school are invited to complete for scholarships available for Florida University's first freshman class this fall. Interested students are required to submit a letter of application to FIU's Invitational Scholarship Program, along with two letters of recommendation.

The program is part of the university's continuing effort to attract outstanding black students to FIU, according to Susan M. Smith, liaison officer in the university's office of admissions.

All students applying for the full, in-state scholarships for the 1981-82 academic year should also submit a high school transcript, official SAT or ACT scores, a 500-word autobiography and a completed admission application to FIU, accompanied by the required $15 application fee.

The deadline for scholarship applications is August 19, but applicants are urged to send in their information as soon as possible.

Each scholarship, Smith said, will be renewable after the first year, depending on the student's academic standing.

Art Ivester of Tidy Car applies a preserve-a-shine finish to Mixon Funeral Home's new hearse

Tidy Car opens in Pahokee

'Tidy Car, the Glades' first exclusive interior/exterior car care center opened in Pahokee this month.

Located at 226 Bacom Point Road, Tidy Car is locally owned and operated by Art Ivester. The new car care center is open Monday through Saturday and offers an advanced car exterior finish and shine that lasts much longer than normal wax Art said.

"We can do anything to improve the looks of your vehicle," Art said, adding that the 'Preserve-A-Shine' is not limited to cars only. "We offer 'Preserve-A-Shine' protection for your car, truck, boat, or plane."

Art said that Tidy Car also offers other services and products such as splash guards, door edge guard, pin stripes and paint oversprays. And Tidy Car offers services to companies who need their vehicles cleaned and protected as well as the individual vehicle owner. Special fleet rates are available for commercial users.

In addition to Preserve-A-Shine, Art's new business washes vehicles and cleans the interiors. Upholstery protection and cleaning is also available.

Tidy Car is a mobile business as well, with service offered at home or place of business, Ivester said. Service can be arranged on evenings and weekends to fit the customer's time schedule.

Appointments can be made by calling 924-2382. Tidy Car, Art said, is the "fastest growing auto appearance service in the world, with over 2,300 independent dealers in 30 countries, treating 900,000 vehicles each year."

Rainbow Girls do well at state assembly

BELLE GLADE - For the first time in the history of the Belle Glade Assembly No. 1, Order of Rainbows for Girls, a Grand Worthy Advisor will be named from the local assembly.

Miss Jennifer Stacey,

the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dale Stacey, Jr., of 1009 N.E. 24th St., has been named the Grand Worthy Associate Advisor. Miss Stacey is senior at Glades Day School was chosen for the position recently at the State Assembly meeting in Tampa. Miss Cindy Fause of Mt. Dora was chosen the Grand Worthy Advisor for 1981. Miss Stacey will automatically become the next Grand Worthy Advisor in 1982.

Dr. Robert Allen, a member of the local assembly advisory board said this is the first time a local young lady will have the honor of being named the Grand Worthy Advisor, although Belle Glade started the first assembly of Rainbows for Girls in Florida in 1946.

Dr. Allen said only Pamela Ursey of Pahokee has had the honor of being named the Grand Worthy Advisor from the Glades. Miss Ursey was the Grand Worthy Advisor in 1968-69.

Miss Stacey a member of the local assembly for the past five years said it is an honor to be chosen for the position and feels is an honor for the local assembly as well.

Locally Miss Stacey is twice the past Worthy Advisor for the local assembly. She is presently the musician and a former flag bearer for Miss Mary Beth McMillan, the Grand Representative for Alaska for 1981.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester McMillan of 124 S.E. 4th St., Miss McMillan said she has been a member of the Rainbows for the past six years.

A senior at Glades Central High School, Miss McMillan said, she is going to miss being Grand Representative to Alaska.

Miss Tammy Haire, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Haire of Clewiston was also named the Grand Editor for the Rainbow Magazine while at the state meeting.

Glades students win poetry contest

WEST PALM BEACH - Two Lake Shore Elementary School students have been named winners in the Junior World Poetry Contest sponsored by the Palm Beach Branch of the National League of American Pen Women, Inc.

Regina Thompson received the first place award for her poem entitled "Summer". Thompson said, is "When summer comes and school is out. We're free to play and run about. The days are filled with happy hours. Blue skies and pretty flowers.

She received a white ceramic bank painted with flowers resembling the flowers she painted below her poem.

The second place winner was Nalwanda Brown. She wrote a poem entitled "Dark Night". She received a ceramic dog as a gift.

Her poem says a "Dark Night" is "When the moon is full and the sky is dark, stars appear twinkling in the sky. Count them one, two, three. Come scrape cross the sky, leaving little lights that are a wonderful sight to see."

The third place award went to Theresa McAllister for the poem "The Squarrel". She received a ceramic owl. All prizes were created by Mary Cirko, chairman of the contest.

Miss Thompson and Miss Brown are students of Ms. Toni Antolik, a reading specialist at Lake Shore Elementary.

Ms. Cirko said the poems were sent to the Junior World Poetry Contest, in California, where they will be packaged and carried to children around the world by participating members of the World Congress of Poets, meeting in San Francisco in July. This is the second year for the Junior World Contest.

Pahokee High School Class of 1951 celebrates reunion

The Pahokee High School senior class of 1951 celebrated the 30th anniversary of its graduation with a dinner dance at the Lakeside Country Club in Belle Glade June 6.

It was the first get together for the class since 1961 and the first time many of the classmates had met since graduation day.

Festivities began with a social hour at 6:30 p.m. Saturday and ended with an all day picnic at the Pahokee State Park in Pahokee Sunday.

Sidney Caruthers, class president, gave the welcome address and served as master of ceremonies. Rev. Trevette Weeks gave the invocation.

Of the 36 who received diplomas June 4, 1951, 23 returned for the party. Attending were Sidney Caruthers and his wife, Betty, of Tampa; Charles Holmes and his wife, Marie Ann, of Dade City; Bobby Mackey and Pat of Immokalee; Chandler McIlwain and Ruth from Fort Lauderdale; Joan Ryals McWilliams and Sonny from Ft. KEEPING THE FAITH needs of man. It is set for the protection of man. It was given to us in great love, more love than the human race understands. In fact, when Jesus was asked what the most important of all the commandments was, He replied, "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul, and with all your mind." This is the great and foremost commandment. And the second is like it, "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." On these two commandments depend the whole law and the Prophets." Matthew 22:37-40 NASB.

Of course when we love someone with God's love and that is the kind of love spoken of here, we will not hurt either physically, emotionally or spiritually. In fact, we will seek to love them. This does mean we can then forget about the rest of the law. The law is our instructor.

In driving a car, we need to know the law. The law tells us which side of the road to drive on. It tells us when to stop for other traffic and when we do and do not have the right of way.

The law of God is our instructor about what is right and wrong. But God's law gives us the real motive in carrying out what is right and wrong. Love deals with our selfishness, pride anger and lusts. But this love is not going to be a real motive for obedience to the law of God unless we really love God as Jesus commands us to.

Jesus was not talking here about ordinary human affections. He was talking about a love we can only have as we are committed to God in Jesus Christ.

It is then and then alone that we can be filled with the love of Jesus Christ toward God and our fellowmen. It is only as we have this commitment that God's word really comes to have the place in our hearts that it needs to. Until then, we are very likely to go on and make our decisions by what seems to be right, and not the most appropriate at the time.

As society has done this more and more in the face of

"For the word of God (the Bible) is living and active and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing as far as the division to the soul and the spirit, of both joints and marrow and able to judge the thoughts and intentions of our hearts," Hebrews 4:12.

What is your authority for making decisions? What is your authority for deciding what is right and what is wrong in life? People either have a standard or a source of authority for these decisions or else they rely on what is the most suitable for the occasion. This is not what one who is governed by biblical ethics does. The real problem with this is that we usually decide by where external pressures push us to decide. According to this, there are times when it would be right to lie, there are times when it would be right to steal. There is no such thing as absolute values.

Once this happens there is no law or authority in our lives. Taking this to the extreme, we can even justify murder. That, of course, as a society we have already done in the case of legalized abortion on demand. There is no protection for the unborn baby.

So, we as a society need an authority for what is right and wrong. As a Christian, I have an authority. That authority is God's Word, the Bible. Here it is in black and white.

Now, someone says, a set of laws is so cold and indifferent. God's law is not cold and indifferent to the losing absolute values and standards, the general feeling of morals and what is considered right and wrong tends to get more and more distant from God's standard of right and wrong.

The person each of us is ultimately responsible for is ourselves. What is our authority for right and wrong? Is it man's or God's?

Tour of Israel announced

Joe Ed McGahey, pastor of Community United Methodist Church in Belle Glade, announces a trip to Israel September 12-23.

McGahey, who has been to Israel seven times and has organized and directed five tours to Israel, says this is a teaching tour, using the Bible as a textbook. The tour price is $1,298 from New York. The price includes air fare, hotels, meals, and guides.

Not covered in the basic price is air fare to New York, passport, and spending money.

During the five nights in Jerusalem, visitors will stay in the Intercontinental Hotel atop the Mount of Olives, overlooking the old city of Jerusalem.

Visits will also be made to the Dead Sea, Bethlehem, the Mediterranean sea coast, Northern Israel, Nazareth, Cana, and Capernaum.

For more information, call Joe McGahey at the church at 996-5568 or at home at 996-5289. Brochures are available at the church office.

Obituaries

OWANNA PEARL MCMULLEN

Owanna Pearl McMullen, 64, of 1600 N.E. Ave. J, Belle Glade, died June 28.

Mrs. McMullen moved to Belle Glade in 1956 from Moultrie, Ga., where she was born. She is a member of the Hopewell Baptist Church of Moultrie.

Mrs. McMullen is survived by her husband, Frank H. McMullen; four sons, Jim, William, Harold Lee, and Marion Frances, all of Belle Glade; two daughters, Iris Tanner of South Bay and Mary Alice McMullen of Belle Glade; a brother, George Burley of Georgia; two sisters, Lorraine Grimes and Silveria Reynolds of Columbus, Ga.; and 10 grandchildren.

Services and interment were Wednesday, July 1, at the Hopewell Baptist Church, Moultrie. Interment was in the church cemetery. Mixon Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

BETTY JOYCE PENNINGTON

Betty Joyce Pennington, 51, of Henderson Trailer Park, South Bay, died June 26.

Born Nov. 4, 1929, she was the daughter of Russell Perry and Fannie Blackwood Gardner.

Survivors include her son, Bruce Pennington III of Spartenburg, S.C.; a daughter, Rebecca Cope, of Allentown, Pa.; and her mother Fannie of Spartenburg, S.C.

Funeral services were held at the Akin-Davis-Pattison Funeral Home chapel, June 29 at 7 p.m. with the Rev. Jere Hendricks officiating. Burial followed in Greenlawn Cemetery, Spartenburg, S.C.

Patriotic religious services set

A special religious, patriotic service will be held Sunday, July 5, at Everglades Presbyterian Church morning worship at 11 a.m. The service is in memory of the signing of the Declaration of Independence in 1776.

The great American religious and patriotic hymns will be sung, said Dr. David T. Evans, pastor. These include "My Country 'Tis of Thee," "God of Our Fathers," and "America the Beautiful."

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag will be followed by a singing of "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

The text of the Declaration of Independence will be read as will the biography of Declaration signer John Witherspoon. Witherspoon, who later became president of the College of New Jersey—later renamed Princeton—was a Presbyterian minister and the only clergyman among the signers.

Dr. Evans' sermon is entitled "Independence, Christianity and You." His texts are Joshua 24:15b, "But as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord," and Romans 13:1, "Let everyone be subject to the governing authorities. For there is no authority except from God and those who exist have been instituted by God."

The 205th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence is an appropriate time to remember our forefathers who sacrificed so that we might have freedom, said Dr. Evans. "It is a good time to renew our dedication to the cause of liberty and to God, from whom come all blessings."

The public is invited to attend and renew their dedication to maintain the privileges of freedom for all people.

Valley Forge

Forever enshrined on the tablets of our history is a scene about two centuries ago. Turned back by the British at Germantown, General Washington carried his ragged army among the rolling hills and woods northwest of Philadelphia. The place was called Valley Forge.

Today it is a mass of green fields and orchards almost completely devoid of the hardships that the army of old are thought to have endured. But the place is still there. Rightly, there is a statue of the Father of the Country at Valley Forge. And rightly, he is carrying a cross. It was there that our freedom began. It really is! Because so many of us believe that, let us in our Father's name...

Pahokee student attends exploration

ROME, Ga. -- Tommy Hickerson, son of Fred T. Hickerson, Jr., of 871 E. Main St., of Pahokee, is attending the first session of Exploration '81, a two-week resident program for gifted children at Shorter College in Rome, Ga.

Exploration '81 marks the ninth year the Georgia Baptist College has offered this unusual educational experience for brilliant youngsters. The program, designed for rising fifth through eighth graders, attracts students throughout the nation.

During their stay at Shorter College students will explore the topics of geometry in art, computer science, the stock market, language arts, social psychology, photography, creative writing and entomology.

Student named to Berea list

David P. Meir, son of Mrs. Patricia S. Meier of 801 N.W. 4th St., Belle Glade, has been named to the dean's honor list at Berea College, Berea, Ky., for the term just completed.

To be eligible, a student must receive a grade of B or better in all of four or more courses.

Berea is a non-denominational private liberal arts college which also offers degrees in business administration, agriculture, industrial arts, home economics and nursing. Each student must also work at least 10 hours a week in a college-related job to help pay expenses.

Sickle cell—

Mrs. Eva Mack, a city commissioner for the City of West Palm Beach and President of the PBC Sickle Anemia Foundation also was in attendance.

Mrs. Byrd, chairperson of the Fourth Annual Sickle Cell Banquet for the Glades said the theme for the conclave was "Strategies for 1981-82: Designing them and making them work."

Martin Rainey, president of the FSSCF presided over the three day conference attended by health care professionals and community workers.

The conference schedule included workshops, a science seminar, board meetings, an awards banquet and a keynote address by Dr. Gerald V. Williams, Executive director of the Sickle Cell Anemia Foundation of New Orleans, La.

Mrs. Byrd said the conference was "both meaningful and successful".

"The conference was most informative and the enthusiastic cooperation among the dedicated delegates in attendance will enhance FSSCF's goal to help find a cure for this disease that affects a substantial portion of the Black community," said Mrs. Byrd.

Mrs. Byrd added, "It is hoped that the enthusiasm generated by the delegates will be carried back to their various communities and the enthusiasm will be picked up by adults and children that have the disease and to the public to present public awareness programs."

"FSSCF hopes public awareness programs will provide accurate answers to many of the questions that may arise as the public becomes more aware of how vital sickle cell programs are," Byrd added.

Dr. Charles B. McIntosh, M.D. of Jacksonville also served as the keynote speaker for the annual awards banquet.

Mrs. Byrd said Dr. McIntosh is a past president of the FSSCF and is presently serving as chairman of the Scientific Advisory Committee of FSSCF.

At the banquet, Mrs. Byrd said, Palm Beach County Sickle Cell Foundation was honored as the most successful fund raising chapter in the state.

Mrs. Byrd said persons who would like to get involved with PBC Sickle Cell Chapter may contact her for information.

She said the El Dorado Civic Club is planning a public awareness program in fall of this year.

Also attending the conference were eight year old, Faith Theresa Martin, Palm Beach County Poster Child, Mrs. Lynn Mills of West Palm Beach and Mrs. Dorothy Glaze, president of the El Dorado Civic Club of Belle Glade.

REV. JOE ED MCGAHEY

needs of man. It is set for the protection of man. It was given to us that great love, more love than the human race understands. In fact, when Jesus was asked what the most important of all the commandments was, He replied, "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul, and with all your mind." This is the great and foremost commandment. And the second is like it, "You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend the whole law and the Prophets." Matthew 22:37-40 NASB.

Of course when we love someone with God's love and that is the kind of love spoken of here, we will not hurt either physically, emotionally or spiritually. In fact, we will seek to protect them. This does not mean we can then forget about the rest of the law. The law is our instructor.

In driving a car, we need to know the law. The law tells us which side of the road to drive on. It tells us when to stop for other traffic and when we do and do not have the right of way.

The law of God is our instructor about what is right and wrong. But God's law gives us the real motive in carrying out what is right and wrong. Love deals with our selfishness, pride anger and lusts. But this love is not going to be a real motive for obedience to the law of God unless we really love God as Jesus commands us to.

Jesus was not talking here about ordinary human affections. He was talking about a love we can only have as we are committed to God in Jesus Christ.

It is then and then alone that we can be filled with the love of Jesus Christ toward God and our fellowmen. It is only as we have this commitment that God's word really comes to have the place in our hearts that it needs to. Until then, we are very likely to go on and make our decisions by what seems to be right, and the most appropriate at the time.

As society has done this more and more in the face of losing absolute values and standards, the general level of morals and what is considered right and wrong tends to get more and more distant from God's standard of right and wrong.

The person each of us is ultimately responsible for is ourselves. What is our authority for right and wrong? Is it man's or God's?

Tour of Israel announced

Joe Ed McGahey, pastor of Community United Methodist Church in Belle Glade, announces a trip to Israel September 12-23.

McGahey, who has been to Israel seven times and has organized and directed five tours to Israel, says this is a teaching tour, using the Bible as a textbook.

The tour price is $1,298 from New York. The price includes air fare, hotels, meals, and guides.

Not covered in the basic price is air fare to New York, passport, and spending money.

During the five nights in Jerusalem, visitors will stay in the Intercontinental Hotel atop the Mount of Olives, overlooking the old city of Jerusalem.

Visits will also be made to the Dead Sea, Bethlehem, the Mediterranean sea coast, Northern Israel, Nazareth, Cana, and Capernaum.

For more information, call Joe McGahey at the church at 998-5568 or at home at 998-5289. Brochures are available at the church office.

Local clubwomen attend convention

OCALA -- When the Florida Association of Federated Women's and Girls Clubs convened in Ocala recently for its 73rd Annual Session more than 25 clubwomen from the Glades were in attendance.

Returning to the place of its inception in Ocala in 1908, Clubwomen from across the state gathered to paid homage to its past founders and to chart a course of action for black women in terms of political, economics and social gains.

Affiliated with the Southeastern Association of Colored Women's Clubs and the National Association of Colored Women's Clubs, the convention was presided over by Mrs. Mable E. Belle, the seventeen president of the organization.

The Harriet T. Dorrah City Association (named in honor of one of the past presidents of FAWC) served as the official host for the four day conclave.

The convention was honored to have three of its past presidents in attendance at the convention: Mrs. Louise E. Taylor, of Belle Glade and founder of the Elite Community Club; Mrs. Louise R. Johnson of Bradenton and Mrs. Alice Moore of West Palm Beach.

Mrs. Willie M. Adams, of Belle Glade, fourth vice-president of the FAWC, said the convention was one of the best in the organization's history and several new events added new dimension to the convention.

At the opening session held at Mt. Moriah Baptist Church, Mrs. Adams along with other FAWC officers were given a plaque with a key to the city of Ocala from City Councilman James Cunningham.

Mrs. Adams said, the Rev. Lorenzo S. Edwards, gave the opening address.

Mrs. Joan Bass, chairperson of the Mrs. FAWC Extravaganza contest and Mrs. Adams presented the Fifth Annual Mrs. FAWC Pageant and the Parade of Countries on Sunday evening, June 21.

Ceremonies.

Mrs. Adams represented Cuba, Mrs. Margaret Poole was West Africa and Mrs. Ida Mizell represented the West Indies in the pageant.

Mrs. Adams said Mrs. Nina Singleton of the Women Civic Club was crowned the first runner up in the Mrs. FAWC Pageant and Ms. Daisy McCoy of the La Chic Mesdames Social Club was crowned the second runner-up.

Mrs. Bass was presented with a plaque of appreciation by the Mrs. Belle for her work with the extravaganza, said Mrs. Adams.

At the awards banquet on Monday evening, Mrs. Mizell was honored with the Human Relation Award; Mrs. Mizell, along with Mrs. L.E. Taylor, was cited by national president, Otella E. Champion as "great clubwomen", and the Friendship Women's Club of Pahokee was presented with the second place trophy in the scrapbook division. Mrs. Janie Sutton, president of the club accepted the award on behalf of the club, said Mrs. Adams.

Local clubwomen attend convention

OCALA -- When the Florida Association of Federated Women's and Girls Clubs convened in Ocala recently for its 73rd Annual Session more than 25 clubwomen from the Glades were in attendance. Returning to the place of its inception in Ocala in 1908, Clubwomen from across the state gathered to paid homage to its past founders and to chart a course of action for black women in terms of political, economics and social gains. Affiliated with the Southeastern Association of Colored Women's Clubs and the National Association of Colored Women's Clubs, the convention was presided over by Mrs. Mable E. Belle, the seventeen president of the organization. The Harriet T. Dorrah City Association (named in honor of one of the past presidents of FAWC) served as the official host for the four day conclave. The convention was honored to have three of its past presidents in attendance at the convention: Mrs. Louise E. Taylor, of Belle Glade and founder of the Elite Community Club; Mrs. Louise R. Johnson of Bradenton and Mrs. Alice Moore of West Palm Beach.

Mrs. Willie M. Adams, of Belle Glade, fourth vice-president of the FAWC, said the convention was one of the best in the organization's history and several new events added new dimension to the convention.

At the opening session held at Mt. Moriah Baptist Church, Mrs. Adams along with other FAWC officers were given a plaque with a key to the city of Ocala from City Councilman James Cunningham.

Mrs. Adams said, the Rev. Lorenzo S. Edwards, gave the opening address.

Mrs. Joan Bass, chairperson of the Mrs. FAWC Extravaganza contest and Mrs. Adams presented the Fifth Annual Mrs. FAWC Pageant and the Parade of Countries on Sunday evening, June 21.

Mrs. LaVoise Taylor, served as the narrator for the Extravaganza and Ms. Alma Henry served as the Mistress of Ceremonies.

Mrs. Adams represented Cuba, Mrs. Margaret Poole was West Africa and Mrs. Ida Mizell represented the West Indies in the pageant.

Mrs. Adams said Mrs. Nina Singleton of the Women Civic Club was crowned the first-runner up in the Mrs. FAWC Pageant and Ms. Daisy McCoy of the La Chic Mesdames Social Club was crowned the second runner-up.

Mrs. Bass was presented with a plaque of appreciation by the Mrs. Belle for her work with the extravaganza, said Mrs. Adams.

At the awards banquet on Monday evening, Mrs. Mizell was honored with the Human Relation Award; Mrs. Mizell, along with Mrs. L.E. Taylor, was cited by national president, Otelia E. Champion as "great clubwomen", and the Friendship Women's Club of Pahokee was presented with the second place trophy in the scrapbook division. Mrs. Janie Sutton, president of the club accepted the award on behalf of the club, said Mrs. Adams.

Local clubwomen attending the convention were: Mrs. Ida Mizell of

Residents want a fence placed along the ditch

Stirling Road residents stirred by steep ditch

BELLE GLADE -- Residents living along Stillwell Road want to avoid a tragedy and have asked U.S. Rep. Dan Mica to help them get a fence erected along side a ditch running behind their homes.

The residents got upset when the South Florida Conservancy District began digging out the ditch. The drainage ditch on Stillwell Road is one of many ditches in the area which are being stored to their original capacity under an on-going project, according to District Manager Jim Kilpatrick.

Mike Cunningham, a spokesman for the residents said he has been in contact with Rep. Tom Lewis, Gov. Bob Graham, County Commissioner Bill Bailey and Mayor

Thomas Altman about what the residents feel is a hazard problem for the children living in the area. Cunningham said the residents are asking these public officials to help get a fence erected along side of the ditch.

Monday a group of Stillwell residents gathered behind the Cunningham home when Robert Burgholzer, field representative for the South Florida Water Management District, inspected the canal in response to Cunningham's call to the governor.

Cunningham said the resident originally felt the ditch would not be so dangerous as the banks were built with more slope.

Cunningham said there are approximately 95 children living on Stillwell Road and most of them are six years or younger.

"They frequently play in my back yard where there is virtually no slope to the canal bank," said Cunningham.

Cunningham said the residents feel a six-foot high fence is the only way to keep the children away from the ditch and away from a possible tragedy.

"It took many tragedies along State Road to get the pine trees removed from along the highway," said Cunningham. "We're trying to avoid a tragedy here, but we can't seem to do it," he added.

The residents have drawn up a petition which they plan to present to the city commission at its next regular meeting.

They also have plans to attend the conservancy district meeting on July 14.

$203 WAS GIVEN to the Belle Glade Municipal Library by Barbara's Dance Studio on June 25. Earmarking the money for childrens books, Barbara Comrie said her Belle Glade students raised the money at a recent performance held at the Glades Central High School Annex. Barbara wons Barbara's Dance Studio in Wellington Country Plaza and comes out once a week on Thursdays to teach. Phyllis Lilley, librarian, is shown accepting the check from Barbara Comrie.

pared to the plans in the water management district office. "If the specifications exceed the maximum depth and width, the district's governing board could require the conservancy board to restore the ditch to its original state," he said.

This final year is $264,500.00. The meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m. for the purpose of discussion of possible uses of general revenue sharing funds. In the meeting at the City Hall, Belle Glade Municipal Complex, 130 S.W. Ave. E. Belle Glade, Fla.

All interested citizens will have the opportunity to give written and oral comment on use of the funds. Senior citizens are encouraged to attend and comment. City of Belle Glade, June 18, 1981. City Clerk, June 18, 1981. BEO, BSA, T&E.

Residents want a fence placed along the ditch

Stirling Road residents stirred by steep ditch

BELLE GLADE -- Residents living along Stirling Road want to avoid a tragedy and have asked U.S. Rep. Dan Mica to help them get a fence erected along a ditch running behind their homes.

The residents got upset when the South Florida Conservancy District began digging out the ditch. The drainage ditch on Stillwell Road is one of many ditches in the area which are being stored to their original capacity under an on-going project, according to District Manager Jim Kilpatrick. Mike Cunningham, a spokesman for the residents said he has been in contact with Rep. Tom Lewis, Gov. Bob Graham, County Commissioner Bill Bailey and Mayor

Thomas Altman about what the residents feel is a hazard problem for the children living in the area. Cunningham said the residents are asking these public officials to help get a fence erected along side of the ditch.

Monday a group of Stillwell residents gathered behind the Cunningham home when Robert Burgholzer, field representative for the South Florida Water Management District, inspected the canal in response to Cunningham's call to the governor. Cunningham said the ditch would not be so dangerous if the banks were built with more slope. Cunningham said there are approximately 35 children living on Stillwell Road and most of them are six years or younger.

"They frequently play in my back yard where there is virtually no slope to the ditch," said Cunningham.

Cunningham said the residents feel a six-foot high fence is the only way to keep the children away from the ditch and away from a possible tragedy.

"It took many tragedies along along State Road to get the pine trees removed from along the highway," said Cunningham. "We're trying to avoid a tragedy here, but we can't seem to do it," he added.

The residents have drawn up a petition which they plan to present to the city commission at its next regular meeting.

They also have plans to attend the conservancy district meeting on July 14.

$203 WAS GIVEN to the Belle Glade Municipal Library by Barbara's Dance Studio on June 25. Earmarking the money for childrens books, Barbara Comrie said her Belle Glade students raised the money at a recent performance held at the Gladys Central High School Annex. Barbara won Barbara's Dance Studio in Wellington Country Plaza and comes out once a week on Thursdays to teach. Phyllis Lilley, librarian, is shown accepting the check from Barbara Comrie.

pared to the plans in the water management district office. "If the specifications exceed the maximum depth and width, the district's governing board could require the conservancy board to restore the ditch to its original state," he said.

This fiscal year is $205,826.60. The meeting will be held at 3:30 p.m. for the purpose of discussion of possible use of general revenue-funding funds. In the meeting hall at the City Hall, Belle Glade Municipal Complex, 119 S.W. Ave. E. Belle Glade, Fla.

All interested citizens will have the opportunity to give written and oral comment on uses of the funds. Senior citizens are encouraged to attend and comment.

CREDIT PROBLEMS?

If your loan application to purchase a new or used car was turned down by the bank or other lending institution, the Stewart's may have good news for you. For a limited time, we have over $200 million dollars available for auto loans. Credit requirements are more liberal than what you've probably experienced. Terms are longer, and no down payment is necessary. Interest is well below prime lending rates charged by most banks.

Call now and drive home today in a new Pontiac, Toyota, Mazda, Fiat or Peugeot. Call for an appointment or come in. Ask for Mr. Foster, Special Finance Manager.
